Cornhill Scotland

Shaping Clear and Competent Messengers of the Truth

History

The Cornhill Training Course was started in London in 1991 by The Proclamation Trust to train people in Expository Word Ministry.

Cornhill began in Scotland in 2006 with the same aim, of serving the Church in Scotland by equipping people to Understand the Bible Accurately, Teach the Bible Effectively and Apply the Bible Appropriately. From humble beginnings it has grown to a student body of 50 with lots of partnering churches. After nearly 20 years Cornhill has a proven track record of raising up dynamic church leaders who are faithfully teaching the Bible in churches across Scotland and beyond.

Who is the course for?

The course is for anyone with evangelical convictions who wants to be shaped and sharpened in Word-ministry. People of all ages do the course, from people in their early 20s thinking about full-time ministry to retired people wanting to serve their local church better.

What does the course teach?

In short the course teaches you the Bible so you can teach it to others. This includes lectures on Bible-Handling skills, a Bible Overview and thorough study of individual Bible books from each of the six Bible genres.

There are also lectures on Biblical Theology, Christian Doctrine and Practical Ministry Skills - all conducted within a prayerful and encouraging group.

The course is also very practical with lots of workshops where students teach the Bible to each other and receive feedback.

How does the course work?

The Cornhill Training Course is non-residential and is offered at two different speeds:

Standard - Two days a week of classes, Mon-Tues for CTC year 1 and Wed-Thurs for CTC year 2. This standard format gives ample opportunity for ministry experience in the local church.

Accelerated - Four days a week of classes, Mon-Thurs.
